He Said, She Said

Fashion and celebrity photographer Jennifer Graylock announces her Sit On My Face collection, featuring celebrity portraits paired with a carefully restored Thonet Industry Chair. We get reactions from two local industry vets—a guy and a girl—to these controversial creations. -DB

"Initial reaction? Cheesy! Photographic prints on fabric can be interesting, but these are neither witty, creative or innovative—they are less than 'booty-ful' and it's a waste of a good vintage frame."

"That's Angelina Jolie and George Clooney? Weird chairs—try not to get crumbs in Angie's hair! Not sure these would ever be in demand at the Market... I wonder how they'll age?"
