

RANDOLPH STREET MARKET

Image Pilots vintage Event Navigators brought the chic urban antique Randolph Street Market to the historical west loop neighborhood offering shoppers an assortment of art, fashion, and antiques. This May-September extravaganza brings together vintage and modern decorative objects, home furnishings, clothing, art, jewelry and more spread throughout the indoor and outdoor venue. It features not only an Antique Market but also an Indie Designer Market with over 200 high quality vendors drawing merchandisers, style savvy individuals, and decorators from around the globe. The upcoming Modern Vintage Chicago this October is in the top three of vintage clothing and jewelry expositions in the country.
